

The Camphill Foundation Canada is pleased to introduce Kathy Downes

Kathy is an energetic and proactive results-driven fundraising professional with over 15 years of success developing and managing fundraising initiatives in both the non-profit and public sector. She is a Certified Fund Raising Executive (CFRE) with a track record managing multiple projects directed toward revenue generation and organizational objectives. Inherent is her ability to align objectives to build and manage diverse relationships with internal and external stakeholders.

Kathy has a background in agriculture as her family recently put 100 acre farm back into crop production. Kathy is also a volunteer with her local agricultural society and she volunteers annually with the fall fair with her two boys. In addition she is active in sports, a marathoner and a devout mountain biker.

